

Corporate Ladder

Reality or a myth?

By

Ranjana Pathak

Corporate Ladder

- We all know what it looks like
- Some of want to embark on it knowingly/aggressively while others are ascending it unconsciously

What are the key components?

- Knowledge (skills and capabilities)
  - Currency
  - Continuous Learning
  - Discipline “it is not a means of punishment or enforced order but a body of theory and technique that must be studied and mastered to be put into practice-a developmental path to acquire skills or competencies” (Senge, 1994)

Components

- Awareness
- Perseverance
- Interpersonal Savvy
- Resilience
- Conflict Management
- Advanced Communication
- Energy
- Clear and direct with compassion

How is this relevant to today's event?

- Many of the underlying principles of the Sanatan Dharma are very similar to the corporate world-ethics, balance (work-life)
- Discover the higher self
- Individual talents that are unique
- Service to others-Master-servant leadership
- Self knowledge-career and ambition as a spiritual path

Namaste

I honor that place in you that when you are resting in yours and I am resting in mine there is only one of us (Vandermark, 2006)

References

- Senge, P. M. (1994). The Fifth Discipline.
- Vandermark, M. (2006, personal communications).